COURSE DESCRIPTION

Introduction to Film studies various aspects of film: aesthetic, theoretical, critical, and practical. Through lectures, screenings, discussion, and practical filmmaking experience, students will learn the basic grammar of film and develop a deeper understanding of how movies work. The course takes an historical perspective, establishing the nature of what has come to be called the classical narrative film style and contrasting that style with realist and formalist alternatives. We will also be concerned with the idea of film as personal expression and the relationship of film to society.

REQUIRED READING:

Richard Barsam, Dave Monahan, Looking at Movies: An Introduction to Film, (5th edition)

Handouts pertaining to the Group Film Project

CLASS PARTICIPATION

Students are expected to attend screenings, participate in class discussion and contribute time and effort to the UWpg Film Fest. Students are also expected to participate in the lab portion of the class designated as the Group Film Project which involves the group preparation and production of a short digitally-shot film. Students must attend all group pre-production meetings concerning their project, assume a pre-production role in the project, attend every day of the shoot, and contribute to the editing of the film project. Further instructions for the Group Film Project are forthcoming.

CLASS Demeanour

Classes begin promptly at 2:30 p.m. – please be on time. Persistent unexcused absences are subject to a grade penalty. Assignments handed in late are subject to a grade penalty, however I am willing to listen to reasonable excuses. Do not miss a class – mine or any other instructor's – because you have not completed an assignment on time. Instructions for the essay assignments are forthcoming.

Please do not conduct private conversations in class during screenings or class discussions or when the instructor is speaking. If you use your laptop to take notes during screenings, make sure the light from the screen does not distract other students. During class please keep devices turned off unless you are using them for classroom work.

Food and drink (water excepted) are not permitted in 1L11 during class period.

Leaving the room before the end of class is disruptive. Should you need to leave a discussion before the end of the class, let me know ahead of time by either contacting me by phone or e-mail or seeing me at the beginning of class.

ACADEMIC DISHONESTY

Students are reminded that plagiarism is a serious academic offence. You should acquaint yourself with the regulations regarding plagiarism, cheating, and examination impersonation as well as the rules for registration, withdrawals and appeals in the University of Winnipeg Calendar for 2017-18 (on-line at www.uwinnipeg.ca).

UWPG FILMFEST REQUIREMENT

Students are required to assist in an activity related to the UWpg Film Fest (Oct 18-20, 2017). The Film Fest Executive Director or Melinda Tallin (Office Manager/Student Advisor) must sign your FilmFest form confirming that you have completed this requirement. Failure to do so will result in a 5% grade penalty.

No partial marks will be assigned for this credit. Sign-up sheets will be available outside Room 3T03 (Melinda's office) by Thursday, September 7th; sign up early for best choice.

2017 ORIENTATION ASSEMBLY

Each year in September we hold an Orientation Assembly to welcome students to the new term, introduce our new students to faculty and other students; provide information about the department, its various activities and those of its professors; and deliver news about what's coming up. This year our Orientation Assembly will be held on Wednesday, September 13, 2017, 12:30-13:20 in Theatre, 1T15. ATTENDANCE IS COMPULSORY for all Majors and Honours students. Those considering Honours are strongly recommended to attend. All others are welcome and encouraged to attend.

TAFSA

All students enrolled in at least one theatre or film class are automatically members of TAFSA, the Theatre and Film Students' Association, which plans a number of exciting activities each academic year. We are looking forward to regular Performance Jams, Socials, DioFest (an exciting new play festival featuring student written and produced plays), and the very popular 24/7 Event during which students move into our building and several plays are written, rehearsed, produced, and presented – all in a period of 24 hours! Please join TAFSA to find out more at its organizational meeting: Mon Sept 18, 12:30-1:20, Room 0T10. This is a great opportunity for students to connect with other like-minded people and a way to get involved in the department events.

STUDENT PARTICIPATION POLICY

Theatre is a communal art form in which a number of interdependent artists and crafts people co-operate to create a work of art. This fact is necessarily transferred to the learning situation, and is reflected in many of the Department's courses. Consequently, it is the Department's policy that students are required to: complete homework such as reading, line-learning, script analysis, prop lists, design drawings, etc.; attend classes; attend rehearsals both within and outside of class times; and, in short, to exhibit commitment towards the inevitably shared endeavours of our field of study.

Any student failing to fulfil these requirements is harmful to the progress of dedicated students and may, after due warning, be asked to withdraw from any individual Departmental course.

COURSE CONTENT NOTE

Dramatic Literature depicts a wide variety of human action, both elevated and base, public and private, physical and psychological, sexual and non-sexual, etc. The Department of Theatre and Film will not undertake to censor the subject matter of dramatic works.

Students who have concerns about dealing with the full range of content and style in drama/film are urged to discuss these concerns with the course instructor.
