

It's student night at TPM for Tomorrow's Child this Halloween!

$10 tickets for students (post secondary or high school), which includes the show, some light refreshments and a post show reception with the artists hosted by the 2017/18 TPM Student Reps. Join Theatre Projects Manitoba at the West End Cultural Centre, for this unforgettable audio experience created for a blindfolded audience

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 31st at 7PM

West End Cultural Centre, 586 Ellice Avenue

There will be a COSTUME CONTEST- and the patron with the spookiest costume will receive 2 tickets to A Short History of Crazy Bone, TPM's spring production.

About Tomorrow's Child:

Adventurous theatre goers will have their curiosities satisfied! Audience members are blindfolded and individually guided into the performance space. The story surrounds them through a thrilling sonic landscape created by long-term Ghost River collaborator Matthew Waddell with the latest in sound technology.

The auditory feast introduces listeners to Peter and Polly Horn- two new parents in the imagined retro-future of 1988 who must confront the realities of their newborn son – who has been born into another dimension. Will they accept the divide between parent and child? Or find another solution?

Call 204.989.2400 to book your ticket to student night, or purchase online. You can also speak with Sarah Flynn (U of W) or Evan Martin (U of M) for more information!